Negotiations looking to the sale of Strawberry Resort, by Mr. and Mrs. William Martin to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baumhoff are well advanced and it is expected that the actual transfer will be consummated about May 5.

The property will be operated for Mr. Baumhoff under the management of James K. Pierson, of Placerville, and immediate efforts will be centered on the development of a trout farm, although plans are being made for the ultimate development of a year around resort.

Mr. Baumhoff said Wednesday morning in confirming the report that he was about to purchase the property that he expects to be engaged in mining near Centerville, Idaho, for about five or six years and upon the completion of his work there, he and Mrs. Baumhoff and their son will return to this county and to the resort.

The property which is being purchased includes 160 acres, less ten acres reserved for a highway right-of-way, and has a one-mile frontage on U. S. Route 50 beginning at the lower end of the meadow west of the present resort, and extending easterly.

Mr. Pierson said he expects to go to the resort in the near future. His plans for his own business in (Continued on Page 2)

The tax delinquency on property in Placerville, the Tax Collector revealed, is one and eight-tenths per cent.

EGBERT TRIAL MAY 31ST

Defendant Enters Dual Plea To Charge Of Assault; Alienists Named

Clifford Egbert, charged with assault with intent to commit murder, will stand trial before a jury in Superior Court on May 31st.

The trial was set for that date at the arraignment Wednesday morning at which Egbert entered a plea that he is not guilty, and that he is not guilty by reason of insanity.

Judge George H. Thompson appointed Dr. Margaret Smythe, of Stockton, and Dr. E. M. Wilder, of Sacramento, as alienists to examine Egbert on behalf of the People and set May 19 as the date for drawing the venire from which the jury to try the case will be selected.

Egbert was represented in court by Attorney C. W. Pearson and the arraignment was conducted for the People by Deputy District Attorney Robert E. Roberts.

Egbert was placed in custody on the night of March 4 by Placerville city officers after he had, allegedly, wounded his wife in an assault with a shotgun at the home of her mother on Bedford Avenue. He subsequently turned the gun on himself and both the defendant and his wife were removed to the hospital.

Placerville Grammar School Has Open House And Program Tonight

The county committee on Public Schools week received word early this afternoon that Dr. J. B. Lillard, president of Sacramento Junior College, will be unable to fulfill his engagement to be the speaker at the exercises at the high school on Thursday night.

Prof. Vernon Mickelson, head of the Department of English and Public Speaking at the junior college, will be the speaker.

Tonight there will be another "open house" period at the school, opening at 7 o'clock, during which additional opportunity will be given those interested to inspect the work on exhibition.

At 8 o'clock in the school gymnasium, there will be a Public Schools Week program, consisting of plays, songs and instrumental numbers presented by the pupils of the school. Principal John H. Palmer will open the program with a short talk.

On Thursday night at the high school, the county-wide Public Schools Week program will be held.

FRUIT SHIPPERS MEET ON FRIDAY AT SACRAMENTO

California out-of-state shippers of fresh Bartlett pears, plums and Elberta peaches will meet April 28 in Sacramento to nominate shipper members of the control committee to administer the Federal agreement and order recently given tentative approval and now being signed by shippers and voted on by growers in a referendum.

The meeting will be open in Room 202, State Library Building, Sacramento, at 10:00 a. m.

Committees to administer the marketing agreement are being chosen prior to final approval of the program as a result of a desire expressed by the industry at the public hearings February 27 to March 3 in Sacramento.

Growers began nomination of their representatives on the control committee and on the grower commodity committees at meetings in various tree fruit producing districts which began April 17.

LIONS MEET AT HIGH SCHOOL

Building Plan Explained; Students Give Program Of Exceptional Merit

The annual Schools Week meeting of Placerville Lions was held at the high school Tuesday evening with a delicious dinner prepared and served by pupils of the home-making department under the direction of Miss Irene Anderson, assisted by Miss Gwenmar Powell.

It was a Swiss steak supper, with fruit cocktail, vegetable soup, creamed potatoes, buttered asparagus, biscuits, jam and butterscotch pie, coffee, celery, olives and pickles—sweet ones.

Guest speaker of the evening was James A. Irving, for sixteen years president of the governing board of the high school. The pupils of the school contributed several musical numbers to the program and of special interest in this connection were two vocal solos by Betty Tidwell.

She sang, "Mother Machree" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Miss Helen MacBeth played the accompaniment.

The other music of the evening presented an instrumental ensemble, Don Charwick, saxophone, Duane King, drums, and Miss MacBeth, piano, in several popular numbers and in two selections, "Blue Danube" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold" which were much appreciated as a part of the formal program.

Helen Brander, another high school pupil, who had represented the club in a recent public speaking contest for high school pupils, was the club's guest of the evening and spoke briefly in appreciation of the opportunity provided for her.

Lion President H. E. Dillinger presided and announced the entertainment committee for May as including Lions Cannon, Berry, Prouty and John Raffetto. Next week the club will have Dr. Emmeline Banks, state health specialist, as its guest speaker.

ROUND TENT STORE SOLD

Frank O. Knacke Buys
Clothing Business
Founded in 1849

The Round Tent Store, men's clothing shop founded in 1849 by M. Simon, and operated continuously in the family since that time, was purchased Wednesday morning from Frank Simon, a grandson of the founder, by Frank O. Knacke.

Mr. Knacke has been associated with the management of the store for the past eight months and welcomed the opportunity to purchase the business from Mr. Simon, who is retiring owing to failing health.

The Round Tent Store was established in 1849 by M. Simon and Son. The founder was succeeded in the business by his son, David Simon, who in his turn succeeded by Frank Simon.

The original business is said to have been a round tent from which the store takes its name. Some time later a stone structure was erected on the same site and with the widening of Main Street in 1929, following the fire which destroyed the Elite Theater adjoining the Round Tent Store, the present building was erected.

Mr. Knacke states he will welcome his old friends and will be pleased to meet new acquaintances. He intends to continue in business with a full line of men's clothing and furnishings featuring the Marx-Mace suits.

He will be assisted in the store by Randall "Chuck" Jensen, who has been connected with the store for several weeks past, and is being temporarily assisted by his daughter, Mrs. Ruth McKee, as accountant.

Mr. Knacke is thoroughly familiar with the retail clothing business, having devoted several years to the work in earlier life.

'Non-Partisan' Fish Board Endorsed

SACRAMENTO (UP) — A proposed constitutional amendment to set up a "non-partisan" fish and game commission today was recommended by the senate fish and game committee.

The measure, already passed by the assembly and now ready for consideration by the upper house, was introduced by Gordon H. Garland, D., Woodlake, and three other assemblymen. It provides for a commission of five non-salaried members to be appointed by the governor for six-year staggered terms.

Assembly Lowers Bars Against Visitors

SACRAMENTO (UP) — In an effort to clear the aisles of the assembly chamber, crowded daily with visitors, assemblyman Hugh Burns, D., Fresno, introduced a resolution banning all persons except members, former members, attaches, employees and accredited members of the press.

Forest Change Is Rumored

President Expected To Ask To Transfer Service To Interior Department

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Shifting of fisheries, wild life and forestry functions now under commerce and agriculture department to the interior department probably will be proposed to congress next week by President Roosevelt under his new governmental reorganization plan.

Under the tentative proposal, the bureau of fisheries of the commerce department, wild life functions of the bureau of biological survey, and the forest service, both under the agriculture department, will be transferred to jurisdiction of Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes.

Control of the forest service has for several years been a subject of disagreement between Ickes and Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace. The projected transfers would be in line with developing the department of interior into a centralized agency for conservation of natural resources and wild life.

The proposed additions also would offset losses to Ickes' administration under Mr. Roosevelt's initial reorganization proposal to congress yesterday. Ickes lost the U. S. housing authority, the public works administration, the office of education, the building management branch of the park service, and the national resources committee.

She is the Chief of Division of Elementary education and rural schools from the State Department of Education, according to County Superintendent E. W. McCoy, who has arranged the meeting.

'Derby Bill' Approval By Senate Forecast

THE HOLLYWOOD LAMPLIGHTER

By WILSON BURTT

HOLLYWOOD—Undoubtedly the strangest tea party ever to be given by anyone was the "post-mortem" affair at which Elizabeth presided and conducted the distribution of her personal effects to her relatives while refreshments were enjoyed by all. Although Elizabeth, (the Aunt Susan of Paramount's "Cat and the Canary") is quite alive she has made up her mind as to who should get what before she is carried away with all the flowers.

"The safest way," says Elizabeth "is to give the spoils of a relative to whom are the most deserving and gracious." She told friends that living would be more free and happy now that she had watched each and every face as they received their allotment. Her closing remark was, "Yes I am very much aware of that old saying, 'Where there is a will there is a way.'"

Seems that our Dot (Lamour) couldn't quite make the world renowned premiere of "Union Pacific" at Omaha on the 24th. She did not want to let the officials down, however, so she sent one of her odd sarongs to the mayor to replace her presence. The chamber of commerce saw a beautiful idea there and auctioned off the little garment for $100. I think Miss Lamour

SAN FRANCISCO, (U)—Henry Schaldach, 28, a star halfback on the University of California football team from 1930 to 1932, will be married to Miss Genevieve Frances Kealy, 20, on April 29. It was disclosed today.

Schaldach, an attorney, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Schaldach, of San Carlos. Miss Kealy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kealy of Midway Island, a model railroad he broke down and bought it for a nephew. David Niven followed with a motion picture projector, and the rush of orders began. On the second day, however, the toy shop sent a salesman over and he boasts one to two hundred dollars worth of business each afternoon. Universal still has faith in the impossible so they are coming back with a swell old thriller, "The Invisible Man." The sun was just approaching the desired angle, sixty extras were in their respective positions, the director shouted "roll em," and three chickens hopped the MGM fence and started pecking at the rice which was so carefully arranged for a wedding shot. Everyone laughed but the prop men who chased the chickens away soon replaced the rice.

Strawberry Sale Bared

Placerville, The White Spot auto tourist court, are uncertain at this time although Mr. Pierson indicated he expects to devote his entire time to the operation of the property at Strawberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin were at the resort on Wednesday and were not available for a statement. The resort property has been, for many years, in their ownership and control being previously owned and operated by Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Watson.

Within recent years Mr. and Mrs. Martin have been heard to express a desire to sell the property and from time to time rumors of an impending purchase, either by an individual or an association or group have been heard.

However, it was not until Mr. Baumhoff recently entered the picture that the probability of a deal being consummated became active. Mr. Baumhoff indicated Wednesday morning that although the purchase is not finally closed, a portion of the purchase price has been paid and it is expected that the transaction will be definitely concluded about May 5th.

The property is attractively situated for resort development, being

Stewart Says—

Secretary Hull Says Isolation Would Backfire

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

It's all very well to argue, as such statesmen as Senators William E. Borah, Hiram W. Johnson, Gerald

Clark

P. Nye and Bennett Champ Clark do, that Europe's (and Asia's) recent gyrations are none of our American business. The fact remains that our business is just what they do effect. Since his return to Washington from his Warm Springs vacation, President Roosevelt has conferred lengthily with his most trusted advisers, and they agree that the United States should be well on its way toward a general commercial upward movement if it weren't for the rest of the world's uncertainties.

They make out a pretty strong case, too. Administrationists never have contended that huge governmental spending is anything but a shot in the arm, to stimulate private capital's activities. And that, presidential counselors assert, is what it was beginning to do and would have finished doing if Hitler's, Mussolini's and Japan's performances had not contravened the natural trend here at home.

Suppose another big war starts. Suppose also that we keep out of it. We'll get a lot of the backwash, nevertheless. A prospective lunatic asylum next door is a bad neighbor even though we may not enlist among the bugs. Consequently our sane investors are hesitant to take risks, however reasonable. Of course that puts the extinguisher upon any hum of industry.

An Isolationist Policy

It's suggested that we might build a wall around ourselves—prosper internally and let other nations go hang. I once asked Senator M. M. Logan how he thought this would work.

The Kentucky solon practically is a free trader. Yet, he said, "It wouldn't be ideal, or desirable. Still, it would give us a chance to regulate our own economy, which we can't do with open doors. It might be a last resort."

Then I asked Secretary of State Cordell Hull (then a senator).

"Considering," I said, "how nearly self-sufficient we are, couldn't we get along pretty comfortably, independent of the rest of the earth?"

"I'd say," replied the Tennesseean, "that we could get along very comfortably."

Well, that's the difference between statesmen.

Old time Republican protection is one thing. Bar everything from competition with our infant industries. That's extinct, for we haven't any infant industries any more. They're adult and well able to take care of themselves, here and abroad.

Isolation, as proposed by Senator Logan, is another proposition.

Secretary Hull submits that no country can be prosperous unless all are. That's the basis of his reciprocal trade treaties. He's made progress with his agreements between the United States and civilized nations, but the Nazis and Fascists are turning him down.

Hull an Economist

Secretary Hull, as a representative and a senator, essentially was an economist.

I thought he was a queer selection for appointment as secretaryship of state. It seemed to me that the secretaryship of the treasury would have been more appropriate for him.

But, since his incumbency in the state secretaryship, he has said to me, "I think that all international considerations revert back to economic considerations."

So economic and military considerations aren't entirely independent of each other.

Household Hint

To create a harmonious picture most of the furniture woods in your living room should be the same. It is unwise, for example, to try to mix maple and mahogany, or walnut and oak. If light woods are to be combined with dark, one or the other should predominate. Small chair side tables, or lamp tables, or a coffee table of a blond wood can be attractive additions to mahogany or walnut furniture. But be careful to keep these light accents few in number.

Lions education committee, welcomed Dr. M. E. Hensley, Ford Park, and Tom Snyder as Lions and Miss Anderson, Miss Powell and their assistants were introduced, as were the pupils who took part in the program.

Lion L. J. Anderson acted as program chairman and introduced Mr. Irving, paying tribute to his long record of public service in the community.

Mr. Irving recognized among the club members some former pupils of the high school to whom, as chairman of the governing board, he had presented diplomas during his sixteen years in office.

He told the Lions that the governing board had recognized the need for enlargement at the high school for several years but had hesitated to press for the improvement owing to the "trying times" until the opportunity to obtain federal assistance in the form of a PWA grant made it seem advisable to go ahead.

The speaker traced the gain in enrollment at the school, opened in 1929 to serve an enrollment of 325 and which now has enrolled 617 pupils.

He declared transportation is a major problem of the school and pointed out that seventy per cent of the enrollment is transported in school buses.

The governing board of the high school has obligated itself, or will have obligated itself by the time the present building program is completed, for a total of $172,848, he said. Of this amount, $153,808 is for new construction, $12,248 is for engineering fees and other services not entering into actual construction; and $6,797 is for equipment.

This money is available and a balance between expenditures and receipts has been maintained and the building project is being paid for as follows: $95,000 raised by the bond issue voted to make the high school district eligible to receive $77,781 in the form of a PWA grant, and the board has found it necessary to spend sixty-seven dollars from its general fund to make the $172,848.

Mr. Irving expressed his pleasure at having the opportunity to meet with the club, and to have the club meet at the high school. He told the Lions that the governing board extends them a courtesy which it does not extend to any other group in that it permits them an after-dinner smoke in the high school building.

"We just close our eyes to that for you fellows," he said.

Lion Anderson expressed his thanks to Mr. Irving for sharing in the program and his motion that the "fines" of the evening be turned over to the school homemaker department was, as usual, carried. With a final word of appreciation by President Dillinger, the meeting adjourned.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS TO BE ANNOUNCED SOON; FIRST PLACE TO CLAIM $200 AND GOLD MEDAL

KANSAS CITY—Dean Frank L.
Martin, University of Missouri
School of Journalism, will head a committee of three judges who will select the winning contribution in the 1939 Americanism essay contest for high school students being conducted by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Homer Croy, noted author and playwright, and Dorothy Canfield Fisher, another distinguished author,
have agreed to act with Dean Martin
in picking the three best essays among the 48 state prize winners.

Throughout the country judges in each state are studying essays written by high school students, between the ages of 14 and 18, on the subject, "True Americanism—How Best to Achieve It." February 22 was the deadline for local entries and state winners will be announced within the next few days.

Winners of state competitions will receive medals for first and second places. Author of the best essay in the nationwide contest will receive $200 in cash and a gold medal. The second best essay will win for its author a gold medal and $50 in able to properly conduct the affairs of their offices and give the necessary service to the public.

Should this happen the public will place the blame where it rightfully belongs, not on the Govern-nor but on those representing the various districts in the Legislature.

We vote for our representatives in the legislature on the promise that they will represent all of the people of their respective districts honestly, fairly and impartially and that they will devote their time to the study of the measures to come up for consideration, and not descend to the practice of petty, par-

than politics of the rule or ruin kind.

Governor Olson inherited a deficit of $45,000,000, and in the face of that fact, Ex-Governor Merriam had the effrontery to claim a balanced budget. Governor Olson has laid his cards on the table and has asked that a budget sufficient in amount to cover the biennium be passed.
Each of the departments of the state government, submitted to the governor an itemized statement of the amount their particular department would require for the biennium and in all cases the estimate for budget requirements so made by the various departments were reduced by the governor. Governor Olson reduced the budget submitted to him by the State Board of Equalization some $350,000, a cut similar to that amount is proposed by the legislators and no doubt, in view of the unenviable position taken by Mr. Stewart in contrast to the other members of the board this seems to be one of the cuts to which you point with pride in your newspaper stuff.

In newspaper propaganda, just why are you not honest with the people you are supposedly representing. They are seeking information—facts, not partisan politics such as you are spreading. Be truthful and tell them that in each biennium since 1923 when the executive budget was inaugurated that expenditures have increased.
Tell them that in the biennium of 1935-37 there was an increase of $107,000,000 over the figures of the previous biennium, and in 1937-39 $108,000,000. Tell them that, measured in percentage the 1933-35 was 28 per cent over the budget of the previous biennium, and that the 1935-37 budget was 34 per cent and that the 1937-39 budget was 25 per cent over the previous budget. In your newspaper articles tell the people the truth, that the increase in the Olson budget is only 4 per cent over the expenditures of the previous biennium under Mr. Merriam. In view of our rapid growth in population and the extra relief load this increase of only 4 per cent seems very small.

We have been examining the election returns in this county and also in the district you represent and we find that both the county, and the assembly district gave Governor Olson a very large majority of the votes cast, which is a clear expression of the will of the people and shows just how he stands in their esteem. We have also noted that you received more democratic votes than you did on the republican ballot. We respectfully ask that you lend your co-operation in giving to this state a constructive and not a destructive government.

that was the score.

In the tenth, Boggs walked, Del Carlo and Barrett were hit by pitched balls and Beach Singled. Then came Marchini, with another of his two-baggers and the baseball game
and the northern half of the Mother Lode League schedule was over.

El Emith pitched for the Cougars against his former team mates and did pretty well himself, getting five strikeouts, allowing but two walks and wobbling once to hit one batsman.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Attention
City Residents

The owners or tenants of city residences who have weeds or other refuse to burn as a result of the Spring cleaning of their properties are requested to attend to the burning immediately.

Owing to the lack of rainfall during the past winter, we can anticipate a dry season longer than usual this year, with consequent increased fire hazards.

If residents will attend to their outdoor burning immediately, it will be to their convenience and will assist materially in reducing the grass or rubbish fire hazard in the community during the summer season.

City regulations against outdoor burning will be put into effect within the next few weeks.
